The bonus was paid today to veterans of the last war.

One of the last chapters in the 17-year struggle over various forms of adjusted compensation was written as "baby" bonds worth almost $1,650,000 moved toward the pockets of city men and women throughout the United States.

Shipments of the bonds to some 3,000,000 ex-service men from 12 federal reserve cities constituted one of the largest batches of mail in postoffice history. When the work is completed 38,000,000 bonds will have been sent out.

Salem Veterans Get Bonds

Registered packages containing bonus certificates to Salem ex-service men went out from the postoffice here today via regular carriers. Veterans not at home obtained them when they called at the postoffice.

Postmaster A. E. Beardsmore estimated the distribution of the bonus to Salem World War veterans would total approximately $300,000.

Office quarters were set up this afternoon on the second floor of the postoffice building to take care of the men who are cashing in their certificates.

Government experts said that by the end of the week millions of dollars in cash would be in the hands of those men who seek immediately to swap the bonds for government checks—and the cash then will flow into the trade channels.

While postal employees at 45,000 postoffices worked on delivery of packages to the veterans, other workers prepared to accommodate those who are eager to get cash.

Special Offices

Special offices have been set up in many cities for certifying the bonds, after veterans have been identified to postal workers. Here, the veteran will trade his bonds for a temporary receipt. The bonds will then be sent to the nearest of 248 paying postoffices where checks will be written.

No veteran will need to leave his home town to cash his bonds, officials said. Each local postmaster has made arrangements to identify veterans, certify bonds, and forward them to paying offices where the checks will be written.

Business observers had expected to see what effect the sudden burst of cash would have on general trade at a time when business normally hits a downswing.

Thieves Wreck One
Auto, Steal Another

A car belonging to William Nutter, Elkrun township, was stolen from his farm Saturday night and wrecked near the intersection of the Franklin Square, Salem-Lisbon road.

Near the site where Nutter's wrecked auto was found, another car was stolen from the farm of Dean Groner. Groner's car was located Sunday morning west of Lisbon where it had been driven into Beaver creek and abandoned.

State highway patrolmen believe the same persons were responsible for the theft of both autos.

Rev. Fr. Cyril M. Fisher, O.P.,
Recently Ordained, Celebrates
His First Mass at St. Paul's

Before a church thronged with relatives and friends, the Rev. Fr. Cyril M. Fisher, O. P., celebrated his first solemn high mass at St. Paul's Catholic church at 10:30 a. m. Sunday.

He was assisted by Rev. Fr. Roberts, O. P., as deacon, and Rev. Fr. Litzinger, O. P., as sub-deacon, both of St. Joseph's priory of Somerset, O. Joseph McNeil and William O'Neill of Our Lady of the Lake seminary, Cleveland, served as acolytes.

In the sanctuary also were Rev. Fr. Maurice J. Casey, pastor of St. Paul's, Rev. Fr. Vincent Jones, assistant, Rev. A. J. Manning of Alliance, Rev. Fr. Thaddeus T. Marchant of Leetonia, Rev. Fr. Francis Palm of Dunganon, Rev. Fr. James Ready, C. S. C., of the University of Portland, Portland, Ore.

The church was attractively decorated with palms and flowers, the gifts of the young priest's friends. A procession led by altar boys and flower girls preceded the entrance of Fr. Fisher into the church.

Rev. Fr. Casey Speaks

The pastor, Rev. Fr. Casey, delivered the sermon in which he paid tribute to the newly ordained priest. He congratulated him upon having attained that goal to which he had devoted his life. He pointed out the years of discipline and self-sacrifice the young priest had undergone in order to achieve his ambition—that of being a worthy priest of St. Dominic. Serving as an altar boy at St. Paul's, he had received the divine inspiration to devote himself to the religious life.

Fr. Casey lauded the sympathetic understanding of a devoted father and mother which contributed greatly to the successful realization of their son's desire.

Immediately following the ceremony, Fr. Fisher gave his blessing to all those attending the mass.

Fr. Fisher, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher of 679 Franklin st., was a member of a class of 34 ordained to the priesthood Wednesday at St. Dominic's church, Washington, D. C., by His Excellency, the Most Rev. Amleto G. Cicognani, D. D., apostolic delegate to the United States.

Fr. Fisher's ordination marked the culmination of a lengthy period of extensive training which had its

LONDON PLANS
EASTERN TOUR
TO OPEN DRIVE

Final Details Await 'War' Councils Today and Tomorrow

NOMINEE ENJOYS
SUNDAY "DAY OFF"

Campaign Manager Hamilton Replies to Farley Blast

(By Associated Press)

TOPEKA, Kas., June 15.—Gov. Alf M. Landon turned his thoughts today to an eastward attack in a forthright campaign for the presidency.

The plan of battle remained in an embryo stage, pending councils today and tomorrow, but the Republican nominee was reported attracted to the idea of speaking in several large eastern cities, to precede a probable western tour.

Hamilton Answers Farley

John D. M. Hamilton, manager of the Landon campaign, was due here today from Chicago, where he replied to a critical statement by James A. Farley, the Democratic campaign general.

Expected tomorrow to round out the mode of attack were Col. Frank Knox of Chicago, the vice presidential nominee, and the sub-committee in charge of campaign strategy.

A quiet Sabbath, his first day of relaxation since he won the nomination, left Landon refreshed today for the task he set himself—wading into a fighting campaign with a willingness to go anywhere it might take him.

Authoritative sources indicated today the first speeches would be made by Hamilton, then Knox, with Landon swinging in for the final salvo about August 15, after giving largely of his time to a special session of the Kansas legislature in July.

Plans Chicago Office

Hamilton announced an office would be established in Chicago and that he expected to be there "about 60 per cent of the time." All executives of the various campaign divisions, he said, will be appointed and functioning by July 1.

If the eastern tour materializes, it was said, Landon would not limit it to the Pennsylvania and Ohio districts he knew as a boy but would include such centers as New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

The governor and Mrs. Landon enjoyed a typical Sunday, at church and at home. His new role was reflected, however, in a larger number of handshakes and well-wishers, and in the pastor's specific mention of "the great honor shared by all of us in the selection of the governor of Kansas to become the Republican candidate for President of the United States."

In a pew that had been roped off before their arrival, the governor and Mrs. Landon sat near the front of the auditorium of the First Methodist church.

Lauds Young Pastor

After Rev. Harold C. Case, the youthful pastor, finished his sermon on "Living By Consent to the Gospel," Landon told a group of reporters "that young man is going places."

"It is significant," Mr. Case said, "for us to find out how to devote ourselves to the best, to give our consent to the highest, to give our lives to the truth in order that when some opportunity confronts us we will be ready for it. Inner hospitality to a new idea or ideal—how desperately we all need it."

Hamilton, in his statement at Chicago, charged that Farley tried "for months to prevent the nomination" of Governor Landon and was "clearly dissatisfied" with his nomination and the party's platform.

"If it's going to be a dirty campaign," Hamilton said, "we'll let him (Farley) set the tempo of it."

Bass Fishing Opens
In State Tomorrow

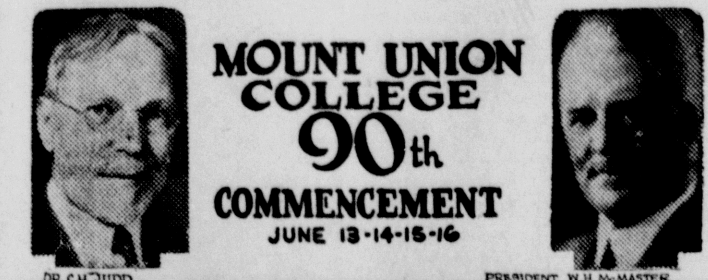

LISBON, June 15.—Bass fishing will open in streams tomorrow. It was announced today by Deputy Conservation Officer L. W. Boring. Streams that have been posted against fishing will be opened by the removal of such posters. Bass measuring 11 inches in length or over is the only stock that can be retained under the orders of the state conservation division.

Fishing in Guilford lake, however, will not be permitted until July 1, it is announced.

Overseer of Grange
Speaks at Damascus

DAMASCUS, June 15.—Vernon Crouse of North Lima, overseer of the Ohio State grange, spoke at a Rural Life Sunday program in the Methodist church here yesterday. The program was arranged by Garfield grange.

Crouse discussed "The Grange and Its Relation to the Church." Music was provided by the M. E. choir and the grange trio. Allen West played a violin solo.

Mount Union college, Alliance, will confer 90 degrees at the 90th annual commencement exercises Tuesday. Dr. Charles Hubbard Judd, director of the School of Education at the University of Chicago, will deliver the commencement address. Sunday morning, baccalaureate was held at Soldiers Memorial hall with President McMaster giving the sermon. A sacred concert was offered Sunday evening. The program for today includes class day exercises, the annual alumni dinner, and Illumination Night.

With early interest in the activities of the Salem Country club, which opened its summer season Decoration day, higher than it has been for several years, officials of the club announced today that they are making extensive preparations for the entertainment of the members.

Arrangements are now under way for the annual Fourth of July celebration with swimming contests, tennis matches and a dance included in the temporary plans.

Bathing and boating in any part of the lake will be permitted tomorrow when fishing season opens, club officials said. For the past two weeks, bathers have been allowed to swim in only a small part of the lake.

The rules governing fishing will remain the same as in former years, except in one instance, it was announced. The size of bass which may be taken from the lake has been reduced this year from 13 inches to 12 inches. This change was made possible by the large number of bass which have been hatched in the club's two spawning pools.

Caretaker O. F. Birkheimer reported to the officials that more bass are spawning this season than in past years.

The tennis courts at the club have been conditioned for the season, while picnic tables have been placed in the open and are ready for use.

GARFIELD MAN IS STRUCK BY PENNSY TRAIN

William D. Armstrong, 61, Retired Farmer, Instantly Killed On Garfield Crossing; Auto Destroyed by Flames

SEVEN HURT NEAR SEBRING

Daughters of Sebring Pottery Manufacturer In Alliance Hospital; Occupants of Two Other Cars Injured

One person was killed when a train struck an automobile at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing at Garfield, north of Damascus, early today and seven persons were severely injured in a triple auto collision on the Sebring-Alliance road at 2 a. m. Sunday.

William D. Armstrong, 61, a retired grocer at Garfield, was killed when an eastbound train struck his car shortly after 6 a. m. Armstrong, well known throughout the district, was driving south when the accident occurred.

When the train struck the machine, Armstrong was thrown out onto the tracks. The engine carried the wreckage of the machine for a short distance after which the car burst into flames.

Armstrong, who resided on the highway near Garfield, has been operating a small farm. He was returning from the farm when he was killed. The body was removed to the Arbaugh funeral home here.

Three Cars Involved

The accident on the Sebring-Alliance road happened at 2 a. m. Sunday near Trail's End when Mrs. Marjorie Keeley, 35, of 385 West Ohio ave., Sebring, enroute toward Sebring, pulled out to pass a machine ahead of her.

In so doing, her auto sideswiped a west-bound machine driven by Douglas Scarborough of MacDonald. Her car then crashed headed into another westbound automobile driven by Lewis Morrison, 40, of 1024 Park Side Drive, Alliance.

Mrs. Keeley was in serious condition when admitted to Alliance City hospital suffering from deep lacerations of the scalp, severe shock and cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Nina Walker, 38, of 120 East End ave., New York City, a sister of Mrs. Keeley and a passenger in the car, received a multiple fracture of the left forearm, cuts about the forehead and left knee. She also suffered from shock. Her condition today was described as "good" at the Alliance hospital.

Both Mrs. Keeley and Mrs. Walker are daughters of F. A. Sebring, pottery manufacturer at Sebring.

Scarboro escaped injury when he pulled over onto the berm of the road.

Morrison, driver of the third machine, suffered a possible fractured left shoulder, cuts on the chin and left leg. His condition at the Alliance hospital was reported fairly good.

His wife, 37, received a possible fractured jaw and lacerations of the thigh and was suffering from shock. Her condition is fair.

Their son, Burrell, 19, was treated for minor injuries and dismissed.

Two other occupants of the same car, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Ayers of 267 West Washington st., Alliance, were given emergency treatment for lacerations and contusions.

Armstrong Funeral Wednesday

The funeral service for Mr. Armstrong will be held at 3 p. m. Wednesday at the home in charge of Rev. A. R. Anderson, pastor of the Damascus M. E. church. Burial will be in Bunker Hill cemetery.

Born Oct. 3, 1874, he had lived in this vicinity all his life. He was born two miles north of Garfield on the Armstrong homestead. He was a member of the M. E. church at Damascus, and was a Goshen township trustee.

JELLING PROCESS

Day by day last week huge quantities of ingredients were added to the new Republican political concoction. This week, the jelling process begins. It remains to be seen just how successful the 1936 combination of elements will be.

Observers seem agreed on the probability of a more fortunate combination than anyone believed was possible a few months ago. Those who formerly thought that the Republican candidate didn't have a chance to defeat President Roosevelt aren't so sure now.

Many of them, having watched the remarkable revival of the G. O. P., are beginning to wonder what Democratic strategists are going to do to meet circumstances which are new to them. For the first time, they are facing the disadvantage of being in the defending position.

Gov. Landon and his advisers have wasted no time in announcing their intention of conducting a vigorous campaign. Seasoned political commentators who have observed the ins and outs of the London boom which stampeded the Republican convention are saying that Postmaster General Farley will be matching wits this campaign year with opponents as shrewd and as aggressive as he himself is reputed to be.

The underdog complex which handicapped the Republican party during "three long years" is disappearing. The new leadership plainly is sustained by the idea that it can win. The spirit of the thing is infectious. Possibly even the Democratic leadership may be contaminated. Even before the outline of the new Republican party has become definite, it is obvious that there has been a significant and salutary renewal of the two-party system in national politics. At last new deal opponents have been provided with a rallying point.

NOW THE WORK BEGINS

Almost unnoticed in the roar of news which echoed from the Cleveland auditorium, the Home Owners' Loan Corporation closed its books last Friday. From now on, no more loans can be made. Instead, it is expected that HOLC will be busy for the next 15 years getting back its $3,000,000,000.

This is not the time to question the validity of the HOLC experiment. It might, though, be a time to wonder just how much of that huge sum of money eventually will be paid back to the federal treasury. In this connection, it will be recalled that late in April reports revealed that one out of every four Ohio beneficiaries under HOLC was lagging behind in his payments.

There is, too, the none too comforting realization that HOLC still will claim a large payroll for operating its 286 offices over the country. The present staff of 16,391 employees represents a gradual decrease from the 1934 peak of 21,000, but it still will take a substantial number of federal dollars to fill 16,391 pay envelopes.

Many persons wish the HOLC well in its new role of collector. They might even gratefully be aware that the plan prevented the foreclosure of many thousands of houses. But their friendly feeling toward HOLC will not stop them from being glad that the end has come to one more vast federal venture into financial fields usually reserved to private citizens.

NO SUSPENSE

As a matter of popular feeling, the fact that congress reconvenes this week to get ready for final adjournment has no suspense attached to it at all.

The sudden death of Speaker Byrns, on June 4, which made adjournment impossible on June 6, the appointed day, broke the spell. The country had set its mind on the end of the session, an unforeseen climax intervened and now adjournment, when it comes, will be an anti-climax.

In all probability, the session will draw quietly to a close the latter part of this week. Democratic congressmen will pack their bags and move up to Philadelphia for the convention. Republican congressmen, having been to Cleveland, can return home for the summer. Now that it hasn't taken place, it is a question why any attempt was made to arrive at adjournment on June 6 in the first place.

THE STARS SAY

For Tuesday, June 16

Judging by the lunar transits, this will be a very active and eventful day, with splendid encouragement for dealing with rings, mergers, secret bodies or diplomatic circles, or in any connection calling for tact, stratagem or undercover agreements. In employment, labor, new ventures or even in social and affectional life, this element of the subtle and elusive may prevail and benefit.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for every eventful year in which there may be profitable associations with mergers, rings, secret societies or through methods of secrecy, strategy and diplomatic agreements rather than direct action.

A child born on this day may be studious and profound, with leanings toward the curious, novel, mystical, occult or unorthodox. It may be poetic, sensitive and emotional.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, June 15—Diary: To the tram with my lady to greet my boyhood friend Jay Price, from Los Angeles, who is to visit awhile. And home to find a message from Rupert Hughes in a dicky over his sick dog and in hunt for a veterinarian. So sent him to Dr. Blamey.

Dexter Fellows in a moment with, as always, a gay tale. And Herb Roth popped by, too. And so at my mail, there being an amusing post card about Australia from Polly Moran who has been tramping there. Then to look at some porch furniture and to a hoop-do-do for Walter Wanger.

Dinner at the Bruce Bartons. Then to my study and sat up with Price until 4 o'clock. And he told of stopping off at our birthplace in Missouri enroute east and visiting an old Negro character Roe at the poor farm. And that he asked about me, which somehow touched me.

Ted Woodyard, in his 30's, is now publishing more newspapers than any one publisher in America. His chain is composed entirely of weeklies. He began right after graduation from college with a weekly in his home town, Spencer, W. Va., and later took over or started 10 more in his native State. Recently he began operating on Long Island and has acquired control of sixteen weeklies there and still later bought four in Delaware—a total of 31. He hires a local editor in each town, gives him full rein and lets him make or break the sheet. So far not one of them has been a failure.

The other day Woodyard stopped at the leading and only hotel in one of his towns. The beds were pretty hard, but not any harder than the dining room waitress and chambermaid combined. She was sitting in the office imbibing an old fashioned when Woodyard came in to inquire of the clerk if he had rooms. The lady piped up: "Sure, we can give you half a dozen, if you want 'em. Business is lousy."

Personal nomination for the most annoying of the modern noises—that swing song, "Tse a Muggin'."

In a roadside pull-up along a reach of New Jersey yesterday the vista included a seldom seen city sight—a wood chopper. The technique of wood chopping has changed but little since Ohio days. The chopper still spends most of his time knocking the handle into place. He selected each slit with infinite care, studying between licks at great length, and gathering strength, one supposes, for the next whang. At about the fourth smite he was stuck, driving the blade in so deep he could not get it out. He seemed utterly floored. Evidently he had put everything he had into that blow. But, thank Providence, he had enough energy left to lean on the handle. It was somehow discouraging to see a fellow put every molecule of vim into a haymaker such as that and see it go sour. When we left, he had apparently decided to wait it out like big league batters do a wild pitcher.

Ellen Mackay Berlin, the Social Register wife of the song writer, Irving Berlin, has taken up her literary endeavors again after a long lapse, and recently landed a short story in a national magazine. It was Mrs. Berlin's first writing effort, incidentally, that was credited with providing the needed affluence for The New Yorker, which was holding to the ropes and groggy. Her article provided the necessary breathing spell for it to get on its feet and stay there. Many dying magazines have been swung back into vigorous circulation by a story or series of articles. A notable example was Everybody's years ago with Thomas W. Lawson's "Frenzied Finance." Hampton's was resuscitated by a series of polar articles by Dr. Cook.

Bagatelles: Marilyn Miller's estate totaled a quarter million . . . Percy Hammond's was more than $89,000 . . . Barbara Stanwyck likes to sweep, dust and put up preserves . . . Polly Moran is a big hit in personal appearances in Australia . . . Kenneth Roberts, magazine roamer, has purchased a villa in Florence . . . Jimmy Johnston reported "out" as fight manager of the Garden 34 times is still there . . . Erskine Gwynne's sizzler, "Paris Pandemonium," is having a whopping sale in Paris, too.

Now that we have had a good cry over Central Park, we'd like to break down awhile over Broadway's plight, but we are all out of crying towels.

LEUCORRHEA

MANY WOMEN and girls write to ask what they can do to cure "leucorrhea," more commonly called the "whites." My advice to all such letters is to consult with the doctor. It is wise to do this even though in most instances the trouble may be trivial. It is a mistake, however, to overlook more serious causes that account for practically all cases.

In this connection there is a yellowish or whitish discharge from the vaginal outlet, a discharge sufficient in quantity to soil the intimate garments. At times it is as profuse as to make it necessary to use a sanitary napkin. When the discharge is excessive and has a foul odor, it is necessary to get medical advice.

Bear in mind that the presence of some discharge is normal. This is especially so in the unmarried. Contrary to the old-fashioned belief, this trouble does not cause anemia and weakness in children. It is the other way around—the anemia and weakness may be the cause of the leucorrhea. It is frequently a sign of general poor health and perhaps of certain constitutional disorders.

Sign of Infection
Often leucorrhea is a sign of some infection. For example, it may be due to infection of the womb or of the glands at the top of the vagina. In such cases cure is only possible by getting rid of the infection. To do this may require prolonged treatment and constant medical care.

The infection may be caused by some sluggish germ or parasite. A great deal of progress is being made in the treatment of a form of leucorrhea due to infection by what the scientists called the "trichomonas parasite."

This parasite produces a condition which is highly contagious, and easily spread from one person to another. It produces chronic irritation. The discharge is copious, watery, frothy or foamy, yellowish and extremely irritating to the parts it bathes.

The presence of leucorrhea in the young or old may be a sign of some internal disorder. In any event it must never be ignored. Do not rely entirely upon hygiene measures, but consult with your doctor about it. He can best advise you only after a complete examination.

Answers to Health Queries
Miss V. A. K.—What treatment or remedy do you advise in the case of Raynaud's disease.

A.—This disease demands the personal attention of a doctor who will outline the necessary treatment. Circulatory disturbances are usually accompanied by some other disorder or condition. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

H. B.—Is it necessary for a man in ordinary health to include grapefruit in the morning meal? This is a matter of serious expense where the resources have to be carefully considered.

A.—Fruit is always wholesome and nutritious and if possible should be included in the daily diet. Other fruits, such as stewed prunes, sliced orange, baked apple, apple sauce or other stewed fruits may be substituted for the grapefruit at the morning meal.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send addressed, stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland in care of this newspaper at its main office in this city.

Opportunities to buy to advantage are found daily in The News classified adv. columns.

"BLIND TO LOVE" by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

SYNOPSIS

Mary Shannon, young and pretty stenographer, is broken-hearted when she learns that James Todd, Jr., is engaged to Vesta Grainger. Mary had known "Jamie" for two years and though he never committed himself, he inferred that some day they would marry. She tries to hide her hurt feelings from her parents and Aunt Willie. One night, Mary works overtime and her handsome employer, Stephen Bennet, takes her to dinner. He has just been appointed manager of the Seattle office of the A. A. Steamer Company and wants Mary to go as his secretary. She does not want to leave her family. At home, Mary writes "Jamie" asking him to meet her when he comes to town so that she can congratulate him. Next day, at the office, Ethelyn Piper tells Mary that Stephen Bennet is "mad" about Mary. Therefore, when Mary bids Stephen farewell, she is exceptionally cool. When Mary passes with no answer to her father, Mary knows she is waiting in vain for "Jamie". Aunt Willie, middle-aged and trying to be young, spends all her money in beauty shops and on gossamer. Mary Shannon is worried but her father seems to have her head over some man named at a dance. Mr. Samson, Mary's new employer, asks her to go apartment hunting with his wife. Mary finds Mrs. Samson a most attractive young woman and very frank.

CHAPTER X

At the end, they didn't go house-sitting at all. Mary just told Sammie that so that she would let you go. You know how she are. Heavens, I have no desire to leave the hotel! Say, I like my room. But I'm lonesome. I don't howl, and you CAN'T meet girls when you're living in a hotel like that. My dear, I don't know a SOUL in this town—except a couple of lawyers I met in the dining room. I never mention that to Sammie. I expect to see a lot more of her. She's new here, you know, and doesn't know any girls—"Girls! She's not your age, is she?" "Oh, no, she's older—But what DIFFERENCE does it make?" "Well, I don't approve of old married women chumming with young girls. You have your nice young girl friends, Babe, and I always think—" Mary lost her temper then. Did it half on purpose. As a relief. "You make me TIRED! Nice girl friends! Who are they? The college crowd? Don't be silly. You know how much Jean Harvey cares about me. The rest care less. The only reason they rushed me was—Heavens, it's all over anyway. And as for the nice young girl I know in business, you wouldn't want me to hang around with them if you knew them. A bunch of stupid old maids—" "Mary! Mildly, from Pa. "I don't care. They are. They don't know any men. All they do is kid themselves into thinking they're having a SWELL ELLEGANT time going to shows—a bunch of girls all together—looking like fools and—" "Babe, you're not yourself," Ma said. "You're excited. You're—" "Oh, no, I'm not. I know what I'm doing. The only boy friend I ever had is getting married to somebody else! Yes, that was a wedding announcement, just like I said. He's getting married, and I wish him luck. I hope he's happy. I don't give a darn HOW many times he gets married. I wouldn't have him myself if—" "Mary! Pa said, half humorously, half seriously, "if there's going to be any cussing in this house I'll do it." "Well, I don't. And let me tell you I've been a nice young girl just about long enough—" "BABE!" "Oh, Ma! Be sane! I'm not going to do anything I shouldn't. You ought to know that. Heavens! But

She tore the thick, creamy envelope carefully. Looked at the stiff, folded sheet it contained. Well, she didn't care! LET him get married! She thrust the sheet onto the bureau, then picked it up again, realizing that she hadn't taken in what she'd read.

"Mr. and Mrs. John D'Evelyn Grainger request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Vesta Allaine, to Mr. James George Todd, Jr., on Wednesday, the—" "Why finish it? She wasn't going! He needn't have bothered to send it."

Quite casually, as if it were an ad, or a bill, she flung it back on the bureau, went out to the kitchen to have her dinner.

When Ma set her well-filled plate before her she said hastily, "Oh, you shouldn't have given me so much! I had tea late with Mrs. Samson."

She thought that food would make her feel better, but it didn't. She ate. Ate everything. Had a second popover.

"Samson's wife came in this afternoon, and Samson let me off to go house hunting with her. She's a stranger here—"

"Well, I should think they'd get someone who knew the city! I don't know as I want you going into all kinds of empty houses, especially apartments. I've heard that you never can tell, even the nicest seeming ones—"

"That's right," Pa said. "Since they've cleaned up the Barbary coast they're all over town. You've got to keep your eyes peeled, Babe, and as Ma says—"

"I'm not a child! Anyway, we didn't go. She wanted to go shopping. Instead, she's awfully nice! I expect to see a lot more of her. She's new here, you know, and doesn't know any girls—" "Girls! She's not your age, is she?"

"Oh, no, she's older—But what DIFFERENCE does it make?"

"Well, I don't approve of old married women chumming with young girls. You have your nice young girl friends, Babe, and I always think—"

And let me tell you I've been a nice young girl just about long enough—" "BABE!" "Oh, Ma! Be sane! I'm not going to do anything I shouldn't. You ought to know that. Heavens! But

So he kept you late! Ma scolded. "And just the night I have popovers. Hurry and get your things off, Pa's in the kitchen already waiting, and Willie won't be home. Oh, there's a letter for you on the hall table, Babe. It think it's from Jamie Todd—"

She came into the hall, wiping her hand on her apron. "I don't see why he should be writing to you, if he's engaged to that girl. I don't like that kind of business."

Mary picked up the thick square envelope, stood holding it in her hands. "It's nothing but the marriage announcement. Can't you read by the envelope?"

"Oh! Ma reached to take it. "No—I won't take time to open it now. I'm going to wash. I'll be ready in a minute. You go ahead and dish up—"

"Well—Ma withdrew reluctantly. Wanted to know all about it. Well she could wait. Mary herself felt that she could wait forever. She didn't care if she ever opened it.

She thought of things she'd read, about girls returning letters, unread. Why be dramatic? Why send a letter back unread? He certainly hadn't troubled to send hers back, read or unread...

Ann Harding and Walter Abel, who are lovers, in "The Witness Chair" to be shown at the State Tuesday and Wednesday.

Ann Harding's new vehicle, "The Witness Chair," will be shown on a double bill that includes "Dracula's Daughter," at the State theater Tuesday and Wednesday. With Miss Harding is Walter Abel, who was seen here a few months ago in another Harding film, "The Lady Consents." Others in the supporting cast are Douglas Dumbrille, Frances Sage, Moroni Olsen and Margaret Hamilton.

Adapted from Rita Weisman's magazine story of the same name, the plot unfolds chiefly in a New York courtroom. The murder of Walter Abel's business partner throws suspicion on Abel, as a weapon belonging to him was used to commit the crime. A secret romance between the murdered man and Abel's headstrong daughter contributes to the circumstantial evidence piled against Abel. Frances Sage, of the Broadway stage, makes her first screen appearance in the role of the daughter.

Miss Harding, as Abel's secretary, is seen as a woman who commits an accidental killing while trying to free Abel, whom she loves, from a business swindle. Miss Harding's dramatic court room confession provides an exciting climax.

A CASHIER HAS TO BE fast, accurate, pleasant. Miss Travis Lander, shown at the ticket window, says: "I like to smoke at mealtime. Camels help my digestion."

A SUGGESTION

At mealtime, try Camels yourself and see why smokers say "For Digestion's sake—smoke Camels"

Science confirms the truth of the popular phrase "For Digestion's Sake...Smoke Camels"

Scientists have found that Camels promote well-being by stimulating the flow of the digestive fluids...alkaline digestive fluids...necessary for good digestion. Often fatigue, worry, excitement, nervousness—all interfere with this digestive flow. Camels restore and increase it, thus assisting digestion to proceed normally and healthfully.

With their finer, costlier tobaccos, Camels give mildness a new meaning. They do not get on your nerves or rasp your throat. Make Camels your smoke—for their cheery "lift"... for digestion's sake. Camels set you right.

Top Ranking Teams of County Baseball League Win Sunday

Liverpool Blasts Salem Merchants; Lisbon Hanna Oils Defeat Newell, W.Va.

Three Salem Pitchers Unable To Stop Heavy Hitting Of East Liverpool Club; John Hrovatic Pitches Oilers to Victory

The Columbiana County Baseball league's top ranking teams had things all their own way yesterday as East Liverpool, league leader, blasted the Salem Merchants, 12-7, and the Lisbon Hanna Oils, second place club, defeated Newell, W.Va., 5-2.

East Liverpool, which has won nine games and lost one in league competition to date, jumped on the offerings of three Salem pitchers and pounded out 19 hits and score practically at will. Frank Christy started on the mound for the Merchants but was relieved by Jim Smith who in turn gave way to Hoffman.

The Merchants collected 12 hits from Pitcher Baker of Liverpool but left men stranded on the bases on several occasions as they scored in the first, fourth, fifth and eighth innings. Steve Zatkoff paced the Oilers at bat with three hits out of five jaunts to the plate.

The Pottery City nine scored in all but the second, fifth and seventh innings with its biggest sprees coming in the sixth and eighth frames when three and four runs respectively were brought across the plate. The heavy hitting of Sachs, Godwin, Vocal, Steele and Shea was instrumental in Liverpool's victory.

The defeat was the six the Merchants have suffered in the County league so far this season. They have won five games.

Hrovatic Pitches
John Hrovatic, who received an injury to his hand several weeks ago, returned to the Hanna Oils lineup yesterday to pitch the county seat nine to victory. Hrovatic kept seven hits well-scattered and struck out eight batters during the contest.

Lisbon took the lead at the outset of the game, scoring four runs in the first and second innings, and protected its advantage by limiting Newell to two runs, scored in the fifth and eighth frames.

Joe Hrovatic, brother of the Lisbon pitcher, and Lederle led the Hanna Oils at bat with two hits apiece. Both of Hrovatic's blows went for triples. P. Cebula paced Newell in batting with three hits out of four trips to the plate.

PITCHER AIDS SHEENS IN WIN

"Jiggs" Hrovatic Hurls Three-Hit Ball To Down Westville

Striking out 18 batters and allowing but four hits, "Jiggs" Hrovatic pitched the Lew Sheen nine to an 11-6 victory over Westville at Westville lake yesterday afternoon. Sheen's scored their 11 runs in the first, third, seventh and eighth innings on 10 hits, taken from Pitchers Fryfogel, Schilling and Miller of Westville.

Westville tallied ones in the fourth frame, three times in the sixth and twice in the eighth.

Rudy Hrovatic led Sheens at bat with three hits out of five trips to the plate, two of the blows going for triples. W. Doyle also collected three hits for the Sheen nine. Two of Westville's four safe blows were hammered out by Stoffer while the others were split between Cannell and Cobbs.

AKRON DEFEATS SALEM POLOISTS

Cowboys Coast To Easy Victory, 12-3, In Match Yesterday

The Salem Polo club tasted defeat in its first match of the season at the Old Fairgrounds field yesterday afternoon as the Akron Cowboys, paced by the brilliant performance of 15-year old Dick Knepper, coasted to a 12-3 victory.

Knepper, playing in the No. 2 position in five of the six chucks, provided the highlight of the contest with his sensational riding and fine stick wielding.

A husky, blond-headed youth, Knepper was in the thick of action throughout the match and time after time placed the ball in scoring position for himself or his mates.

His excellent work was responsible for four of Akron's 12 goals. He pushed two shots through the uprights in the first period to give the Cowboys a lead which they held in the remaining periods and then added other scores in the fifth and final chucks.

The Salem poloists were far outclassed in every chucker but, considering that it was their first match and that several of the players are now to the game, their all-around performance is deserving of worthy mention.

Jim Pidgeon and Brooke "Pet" Votaw, the Salem club's only experienced players, were the "key men" of the team but two "rookies," Raymond Moff and Willie Smith came through in great style.

In their initial attempt at polo they scored two of Salem's three goals.

Scores In First
Smith scored his goal in the first period on a close shot from directly in front of the posts while Moff tallied in the second chucker on another close range drive. The other Salem goal was made in the sixth chucker by Votaw.

The Salem club failed to tally on numerous opportunities but this may be attributed to the fact that is players who have been practicing with a large, heavy rubber ball, transferred to the use of a smaller and lighter willow ball for yesterday's game.

The Salem club will journey to Zelenople, Pa., to play the Old Furnace Polo club in its second match of the season next Sunday.

Summary of yesterday's game follows:

Anglers Prepare For Bass Season

Salem and other Ohio anglers were dusting off their tackle today in preparation for the opening of bass season in Ohio's inland waters tomorrow.

With the exception of Guilford lake, which is not scheduled to open for fishing until July 1, all nearby bodies of water will be open to bass fishermen.

Deputy Game Warden Lon Borning issued a warning today that any anglers caught fishing at Guilford will be prosecuted.

JUNIORS LOSE TO PALESTINE

Salem Legion team Handled, 17-3 Trouncing By Undefeated Nine

Defending an undefeated record, the East Palestine American Legion Juniors soundly trounced the Salem Juniors, 17-3, in a Columbiana county contest at Centennial park Saturday afternoon. The defeat was the third the Salem Juniors have suffered in county competition to date.

Unable to figure the slants of Pitcher Rudloff of East Palestine the Salem lads could only collect three hits during the seven-inning contest. Their two runs were scored in the second frame.

East Palestine, aided by the service of several players from Columbiana where there is no Junior League team, took advantage of Salem's 12 errors and 13 hits granted by Pitchers Hrvatin and Davis to score 17 runs.

Palestine took the lead in the first inning by sending four runs across the plate and then after tallying once in the fifth frame went on a scoring spree in the sixth to tally 12 markers.

Joe Hrvatin went five innings on the mound for Salem and was relieved by Davis in the sixth. Rudloff went the full route in the box for Palestine and besides issuing three hits struck out 13 Salem batsmen.

Watt, Manchester and Early paced the Palestine Juniors at bat with two hits each.

Batting And Pitching Strength Combined To Aid Cubs to Win Games

Chicago Nationals Are Now On Top of An 11-Game Winning Streak, The Longest Run In Big Leagues This Season; Start Eastern Trip Tomorrow

By SID FEDER, Associated Press Sports Writer
When batting might hooks up with pitching strength on the same baseball combination, fireworks are the general result.

That's the answer to the current pell-mell parade of those climbing Chicago Cubs, now on top of an 11-game winning streak, longest run in the big leagues this season.

It wasn't only that they suddenly came to life at the plate, or on the mound. But when they hit both at the same time—the resultant explosion is no more than can be expected.

In 11 straight games, each member of the twirling troupe has gone the route; hasn't been touched for more than nine hits in any one battle, and has averaged about seven. At the same time, the batting brigade has clubbed out a grand total of 123 safe blows, averaging slightly over 11 a game. That tells the story.

The big question mark now is: Can they continue, away from Wrigley field, as they've done at home? They start the eastern swing tomorrow, and thereby probably hangs their hope for catching up with the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals by July 4.

Successful Stand
The long successful home stand ended yesterday with Frank Demaree's two homers accounting for all the runs as the Boston Bees fell 3-2 and Lon Warneke chalked up his third win of the victory streak, his second straight seven-hitter in five days.

The triumph, however, didn't cut down the St. Louis 3½ game lead even a fraction. The Gas House gang hooked up in a wild slugging spree with the Phillies and came out on top 12-10, as Dizzy Dean, going to work with only 24 hours rest, went in as a relief pitcher to end the game.

The two leaders pulled away from the third place Pirates, as the New York Giants snapped their own five-game losing streak and the Bucs' seven-straight winning run at the same time, with Hal Schumacher turning in a five-hit performance for an 8-0 edge. Winding up

LEGAL NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION, TO QUIET TITLE.
In the Court of Common Pleas, The State of Ohio, Columbiana County, ss:
Florence O. York vs. Mary Pite, et al.

The Unknown Heirs of Thaddeus Pite, deceased, and the Unknown Heirs of Polly Beck, deceased, whose places of residence are unknown, will take notice that Florence O. York has filed an action in the Court of Common Pleas, Columbiana County, Ohio, alleging that the defendants above named have or claim to have an interest in the following described real estate, to-wit:

Situated in the Township of Knox, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, and known as being Lots No. 54 and 55 in Dellenbaugh's Addition to the Village of North Georgetown, Ohio, as recorded in the Recorder's office of said County, with all the appurtenances belonging thereto.

The Petitioner further alleges that by reason of errors, omissions, and other matters apparent of record in the chain of title to this Plaintiff, the defendants named above have or claim to have an interest or estate in the premises above described; that the plaintiff and her predecessors in title have held the open, notorious, continuous, adverse possession of said premises for more than twenty-one years, last past; that the respective interest of said defendants has been long since barred by the Statute of Limitations and that whatever interest each may have is but a pretended claim and is a cloud upon the title of this Plaintiff.

The prayer of the petition is that the defendants named above be required to answer on or before the sixth day of July, 1936.

I, R. R. PERKINS, Attorney for Plaintiff (Published in Salem News May 25, June 1, 8, 15, 22 & 29, 1936)
